	will publish	(the "Article") by	•
		(the "Authors") in
		_ (the "Journal").

II. No Assignment of Copyright

2. The copyright in the Article shall remain with the Authors, and nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as an assignment of copyright to the Publisher.

III. LICENCE TO THE PUBLISHER

- 3. The Authors grant to the Publisher, an irrevocable, non-exclusive, royalty-free and transferable license to publish, reproduce, store, transmit, display and distribute the Article in the Journal and in any and all other media, retrieval systems, anti-plagiarism software and other formats now or hereafter known. The licence grant shall be on the following terms:
 - a. The Publisher may without further permission from the Authors transfer, assign, or sublicense the rights that the Publisher has pursuant to this Agreement.
 - b. The Publisher may prepare translations and abstracts and other similar adaptations of the Article in furtherance of its publication of the Article.
 - c. The Publisher may use the Authors' name, likeness, and institutional affiliation in connection with any use of the Article and in promoting the Article or the Publisher.
 - d. In order to foster wider access to the Article, especially for the benefit of the non- profit community, the Authors hereby grant to the Publisher the discretionary authority to publish the Article with a Creative Commons "Attribution 4.0 International" license.
 - e. This grant of licence shall take effect immediately.

IV. AUTHORS' RIGHTS

- 4. The Authors have or retain, as the case may be, the following rights:
 - a. The Authors are entitled to receive at a prescribed and communicated charge, a fully accessible electronic copy of the Article in a format, such as the Portable Document Format (.pdf) that preserves final page layout, formatting, and content within 14 days of first publication. Further, each of the Authors are also entitled to receive one hard copy of the Certification of the publication of the Article at no extra charge, postage paid by the publisher.
 - b. The Authors shall have the right to use the edits and other contributions of the Publisher's staff.

- c. The Authors may publish the Article in another scholarly publication, in a book, or by other means. The Authors may exercise this right of publication only after the date of first publication of the Article in the Journal in any format.
- d. The Authors shall, without limitation, have the right to use the Article in any form or format in connection with the Authors' teaching, conference presentations, lectures, other scholarly works, and for all of Authors' academic and professional activities.
- e. The Authors shall at any time have the right to make, or to authorize others to make, a preprint or a final published version of the Article available in digital form over the Internet, including, but not limited to, a website under the control of the Authors or the Authors' employer or through digital repositories including, but not limited to, those maintained by scholarly societies, funding agencies, or the Authors' employer(s). This right shall include, without limitation, the right of the Authors to permit public access to the Article as part of a repository or through a service or domain maintained by the Authors' employing institution(s) or a service as required by law or by agreement with a funding agency.
- f. Any of the foregoing permitted uses of the Article, or of a work based substantially on the Article, shall include an appropriate bibliographic citation referring to the Publisher. If used electronically, it shall include the URL provided by the Publisher.
- g. To the extent that the Publisher holds similar rights with respect to the Article consistent with this Agreement, the Authors shall hold these rights on a nonexclusive basis.

V. AUTHORS' REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

- 5. The Authors represent and warrant the following:
 - a. The Authors are the sole authors of the Article, own the copyrights, and, as such, are the sole individuals whose permission is needed for publication of the Article pursuant to this Agreement;
 - b. The Article is the Authors' original work, contains no plagiarism and does not violate, in whole or part, any existing copyright;
 - c. The Authors have the right to license the Article, under the terms described above, to the Publisher including permission to reproduce any textual or graphical material included in the Article that is not the Authors' own;
 - d. The Authors have not made, and will not make, any agreement that would be in conflict with this one;
 - e. The Article has not been previously published in whole or in part in any law Publisher, and will not be published, in whole or in part, in any manner that would violate the terms of paragraph 3 of this Agreement;
 - f. The Article does not defame, or infringe upon rights of privacy or publicity or intellectual property or property rights, or violate the civil rights or any other rights, of any individual or entity.
 - g. The Article does not contain any obscene material.

VI. EDITING

6. The Authors authorize the Publisher to edit and revise the Article prior to publication in the Publisher, but the Article shall not be published by the Publisher unless it is acceptable in its final form to both the Publisher and the Authors.

7. The Authors agree to hold the Publisher, their licensees, and their distributes harmless from any claim, action, or proceeding alleging facts that constitute a breach of any representation or warranty enumerated in paragraph 5, and further agree to indemnify the Publisher against expenses and attorney's fees that may be incurred in defence against each claim, action, or proceeding.

VII. OTHER CLARIFICATIONS

- 8. This Agreement constitutes the sole and entire agreement between the Authors and the Publisher with respect to the publication and copyright of the Article as well as other subjects of this Agreement. Any modification of or additions to the terms of this Agreement shall be in writing.
- 9. This Agreement will be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Madhya Pradesh and the Central laws of India.
